ROLEPLAYING

Introduction

"Move along folks, Nothing to see here" shouts the graying dwarf standing at the perimeter of the crime scene

Appearance

Stout and wide with a graying hair and beard. A slightly disheveled and stained City Watch uniform with a large hammer

Expressions

"Just another day keeping the city safe", "I'm too old for this %@#&";. "You'll learn rookie, it's just the way it goes"

Mannerisms

Strokes his braided beard thoughtfully. Has a slight hand tremor

Motivations

Holding on till his retirement pension kicks in. Keeping the city safe.

Passions

Renovating his home. Training new recruits

Secrets

Takes the occasional bribe to look the other way or provide information

BACKGROUND STORY

Yoloff has had a long and decorated career with the watch and is just waiting for his retirement pension to kick in so he can putter around his home full time. He knows the city like the back of his hand and has pretty much seen it all. Despite comments to the contrary, he actually enjoys and takes pride in training and keeping the rookies safe on the job. Due to his advanced age, most of his duties consist of training and crowd control on the few days that he gets away from pushing paper at his desk at Watch HQ. He's been a good watchman for a long long time, but has been known to take the odd bribe to supplement his income as long, as it's not to ignore something that will directly hurt anyone.
