Special Abilities

- Divine Sense, Lay on Hands, Divine Smite, Aura of Protection, Aura of Courage, Command, Compelled Duel, Warding Bond, Truth, Aura of Vitality, Spirit Guardians, Challenge, Turn the Tide, Divine Allegiance

Spells: 1 - 4; 2 - 3; 3 - 2

Special Equipment

- Belt of the Sacred Mount. Wondrous Item (Rare, requires attunement by a paladin). A belt with plates of steel every few inches. The buckle depicts a golden horse's head. When the wearer summons a creature with the Find the Beast spell, the creature gains a bonus to attack damage, and AC equal to the wearer's proficiency modifier.
- Compelling Maul. Magic Weapon. Uncommon (requires attunement by a paladin). A compelling maul is gaudy and covered in fine metal gems and is slightly larger than an average maul of its type. It deals a bonus 2 psychic damage with each hit. When the weapon scores a critical hit, the weapon casts Compelled Duel on the creature hit. Creatures immune to the condition are immune to this effect.

Combat Tactics

Morion is a very dangerous opponent. Particularly because he is rarely alone and usually accompanied by a number of warforged warrior priests. As a combatant he will often use divine abilities to manipulate the situation before charging forward with his Compelling Maul.

Actions

Compelling Maul (2d6+2 Bludgeoning Damage)

PERSONALITY

As a high priest of Waukeen [or any other Civilization or Mercantile/Capitalist Community] Morion believes in the power of venture capital, mercantile culture, and clear divisions of labor. He is a champion of this clergy and a warrior for its cause. He grew up in a High Elven community committed to the establishment of the ideals that insist that 'civilized' societies must rely on a clear division of labor; a clarity which can only be achieved by relying on the power of wealth as the primary feature for division.

To these clergy, the exchange of coin and goods is central to maintaining law and order and, as such, the church has dedicated its champions to protecting marketplaces, caravans, and any other vectors for the spread of capitalism. The clergy have established powerful 'armies' of warrior monks and priests, adorned in lush tunics of grey and gold, highlighted with rare coins sewn into the fabric.

Morion has spent his many years dedicated to this clergy. Battling surrounding nations as a warrior priest, He has gained notoriety for his ruthless and divinely imbued abilities. Even within the church hierarchy. These clergy literally battle one another for advancement to the upper echelons. And Morion has gained a reputation as a dangerous opponent of the lower echelons.

The dedicated member of the community.

The upper clergy consist primarily of Elves and Humans, while the lower echelons are made up of the dwarves, plus a large proportion of Warforged created by the gifted High Elf and Human devout.

Warion is not engaged in complex rituals and prayer. He is found at Marketplace Eternal at the Mercantile Temple. He is most often found escorting high-value trade caravans through distant trade routes. He is often accompanied by a small battalion of warforged warriors dedicated to the mercantile clergy. Morion is fond of one particular follower, <https://getvibrantgames.com/npc2/cure>.
