Factions

The Stage Actors' Guild

ROLEPLAYING

Introduction

Renown throughout the region for his passionate performances and people-centered political beliefs, numerous other townsfolk will suggest to any adventurers that they visit him to witness his great performances. He also be pointed out as a connection to rebellious action with the goal of undercutting or removing local government officials and magistrates.

Appearance

Very handsome specimen; Polished amber curls fall to his shoulders or gets tied in a topknot (unless he's performing); Fashion savvy - wears bright colors contrasted with deep hues; Loves patterns - in clothing and otherwise;

Expressions

"Everything comes together in a form or shape; a pattern. Everything has a pattern"; "Stay gleeful, glum chum. The world needs joy."; "Did you see my performance of Lord Neverremember in 'The Calling of Broken Arrows'? I think everyone who's anyone has seen that."

Mannerisms

Although a physical actor, Eldaren is gentle and deliberate in his movements - his flourish only comes to the fore in performance or conflict; Knocks on wood; Almost always humming or whistling a tune - to the detriment of nerves of others;

Motivations

Desires renown as the finest actor in town/city/region. Hopes his performances invoke proclivities towards socialist political beliefs and away from monarchs and the aristocracy.

Passions

Acting, miming, singing, comedy; The greater good, to a fault; Socialism;
