Introduction Stamping her wooden leg for emphasis, the madam shouts, "Grafters! Thieves!" The constable rolls his eyes and sighs.
Appearance Beautifully dressed in a gown of burgundy-dyed cotton with pale blue silk frills; cleavage; wooden leg; loud eyebrows.
Expressions "Hon"; "Darlin'"; "Don't be shy. Unless you're a tax-man"; "Woman's oldest professions - gardeners... and seamstresses."
Mannerisms In brothel - touches men's chests, squeezes biceps, ruffles hair; in court - defends herself by yelling, banging peg leg.
Motivations Driven by business growth, and by having the classiest, most beautiful bevy of "seamstresses" in town.
Passions Making money; keeping her ladies happy, healthy, and active; cleansing via herbal teas and cranberries; fashion trends.
Secrets

>Several years later, Stella opened her own house of "seamstresses" high on a hilltop surrounded by the homes of the wealthy and powerful. As a seamstress, she has been in the pockets of most of the town's elite, including the constabulary who hounded her continually for unpaid taxes. Stella's mansion on the hill is widely regarded to be the grandest brothel in the city.

regarded to be the classiest brother in town, and is of some repute even several towns down the road. She keeps her ladies fit and gorgeous, and trains them in upper class etiquette, psychology and identifying peculiar fetishes.

Though Stella is no longer active as a "seamstress" here, she still hears every item of upper class news, gossip, and secrets that there is to hear. Stella knows everything about just about every wealthy and/or noble man in town. She is always happy to gossip, though she does also know the value of a thing, and she knows when to charge, and how much to charge.
