Special Equipment

• Cloak of Protection +3

• {"Staff of Defense simple weapon, rare (requires attunement by a creature proficient with bludgeoning, versatile (1d8). This staff is hollow and made of glass yet is as strong as oak. It weighs 3 pounds. You must be attuned to the staff to gain its benefits. While holding the staff, you can cast its spells. While holding the staff, you have a +1 bonus to your Armor Class. The staff has 10 charges, which are used to cast the spells within it. With the staff in one hand, you can use your action to cast one of the following spells from the staff if the spell is on your class's spell list"=>"mage armor" (2 charges) or shield (2 charges). No components are required. The staff regains 1d6 expended charges each day at dawn. When you expend the staff's last charge, roll a d20. If the roll is 1, the staff shatters and is destroyed. Versatile. This weapon can be used with one or two hands. A damage value in parentheses appears with the property—the damage the weapon is used with two hands for a melee attack."}

Combat Tactics

Gren is not to be underestimated. He is a skilled combatant. He will almost exclusively stay back from melee and allow his guards to take the ranks while he casts vicious spells from afar.

Introduction

A robed dragonborn, gnarled hound, and equipped militia stroll from the castle gates. "What business have ye here?"

Appearance

Green, polished scales. Tendril locks of grey hair. Cloudy yellow eyes. Fine magics robes.

Expressions

"The regals are on travel-time. If you have business, it is with me." "Our time is valuable. Make it quick."

Mannerisms

Hands clasped. Cloudy eyes strain to see clearly. Small but effective gestures. Slight limp in right leg.

Motivations

To serve the noble family for whom he serves as castellan and deputy. Ensure all scutages are paid, always.

Passions

Gold. Power. He seeks to replace his benefactors eventually.

Secrets

Has begun an underground rebel faction to replace the royals of the region.

BACKGROUND STORY

With nothing but selfish goals, Wureok, the local guild of Magic Arts and, with his exceptional cunning and charisma, worked into an internship with the castellan at the castle. Using his raw magicks and ability to influence others, he ousted the castellan by convincing the noble family they served that he was an expert, a foreigner looking to undermine their position. Gaining the trust of the royals over centuries and generations, Wureok has, at least on the surface, appeared to be an exemplary commander. He watches over the castle and surrounds himself with great attention to detail; especially, he comes to collecting taxes and scutage.Wureok has organized a growing rebellion among the peasants and townsfolk, using pressures he himself applies to turn them against his benefactor, then twisting the stories of uprisings in reports to his benefactor. He presents further reason for his position, the further exploitation of the common-folk, and the royal family to further insulate themselves from the outside world.
