Introduction

A young halfling woman bars your path. /"Between us, a captured puma on a rope. How are we to approach each other?/"

Appearance

Beautiful, immaculate, slender for a halfling; one letter pasted to each eyelid; carries a silvery fruit in one hand.

Expressions

We are all ku

Your thoughts are like my dresses, the waistlines all identical

All dreams were dreamt long ago.

Mannerisms

Stands on toes, like a ballerina; arches eyebrows; holds hands over her eyes when she closes them to think.

Motivations

Recovering her lost language, which she promptly forgot upon the khagan's decision to convert the Khazar halflings

Background Story

Princess Ateh may or may not be a princess anymore. Her peoples' kingdom of Jjubalanah [A halfling kingdom that has been lost (or maybe not!)] did not fair well in the Goblin and Hobgoblin raids of the Dark Reckoning of Rakosh Ghaal [Any Goblinoid or Orcish Deity]. Largely razed to the ground, Jjubalanah was once a bright kingdom populated by loving and generous halfings and their ilk. Ateh was among their best. Having been driven from her kingdom by war and subsequently hunted by the viscious dark forces of Rokash Ghaal, Ateh now remains in hiding yet continues her well-skilled political performances for various factions within the realms to promote equality and abundance. Her peoples believed in the beauty imparted by by Ku, her peoples concept of a central spiritual entity. The philosophy of Ku dictates that all things happen at the same time and that time is merely the gift of enjoying every moment that has or will exist. Her beliefs fuel her beauty and her beauty fuels her beliefs
