- Font of Magic; Eyes of the Grave; Hound of Ill Omen; | Spellcasting: 5 - 5; 2 - 3; 3 - 3; 4 - 3; 5 - 2 | Breath Weapon: Poison

Special Equipment

- Cloak of Protection +3
- { "Staff of Defense simple weapon, rare (requires attunement to bludgeoning, versatile (1d8). This hollow staff is made of glass yet is as oak. It weighs 3 pounds. You must be attuned to the staff to gain its benefits. While holding the staff, you have a +1 bonus to your Armor Class. The staff has 10 charges, which are used to cast the spells within it. With the staff in one hand, you can use your action to cast one of the following spells from the staff if the spell is on your class's spell list=>"mage armor" (1 charge) or shield (2 charges). No charges are required. The staff regains 1d6 expended charges each day at dawn. When you expend the staff's last charge, roll a d10. If you roll a 1, the staff shatters and is destroyed. Versatile. This weapon can be used with one or two hands. A damage value in parentheses appears with the property—the damage the weapon is used with two hands for a melee attack." }

ROLEPLAYING

Introduction

A robed dragonborn, gnarled hound, and equipped militia stroll from the castle gates. "What business have ye here?"

BACKGROUND STORY

With nothing but selfish goals, Wurek the local guild of Magic Arts and, with his exceptional cunning and charisma, worked his way into an internship with the castellans. Using his raw magicks and ability to influence others, he ousted the castellans, convincing the noble family they served was an imposter - a foreigner looking to undermine their power. Gaining the trust of the royals over decades and generations, Wurek has, at least on the surface, appeared as an exemplary court official. He watched the castle and surrounding villas with great attention to detail; especially when it came to collecting taxes and scutage.He has organized a growing rebel faction of peasants and townsfolk, using the pretense of himself applies to turn them against his benefactor, then twisting the stories of his actions in reports to his benefactor. He thereby provides further reason for his position, for the exploitation of the common-folk, and for his family to further insulate themselves from the outside world.
