Combat Tactics

Cal isn't a coward. His mental courage ensures that he loses track of his well-being and launches himself roadways that permit travel a quick escape. He will approach seemingly courageous adventurers to ask if they would help him regain control of his lands.

Appearance

Cal is a tall and gaunt firbolg with pale yellow-ish skin and wild bark colored hair; his bulbous nose radiates pinkish-reddish hues; he is covered in various scars; he wears clean inauthentic royal garb that is dirty and torn

Expressions

"Don't you know who I am??"
"I ought to have you thrown into the dungeon of Carmine for that transgression!"; "The villainous scum of this region will feel my full wrath!"; "I must consult with the rest of my circle about these transpirations"

Mannerisms

Gestures in what appears to be very official and regal ways; Questions adventurers and passers-by on their bloodlines. Consistently making political speeches and promises and demanding the loyalty of those around him to the 'Order of Indontus' (Does it exist???)

Motivations

He seeks to trace his bloodline exclusively to a royal end, whether true or not. Cal will often spend hours barking at crying news of the activity of royalty or magistrates and turn it into something relating to his extended family and social circles; most of it true, but spun.

Passions

Politics; Himself; Bloodlines

Secrets

Cal is not royalty at all. Or is he?

BACKGROUND STORY

Wandering through the woods Cal Manterius realized that he had no idea where he was or where he was going. The brain fog imposed by that Green Hag who was haunting his village lingered. Was there a hag? What village? Cal's mind tumbled through what he thought were memories that wouldn't stop tumbling. He was getting dizzy. Stop tumbling! He cried out in his mind.

Secrets

Cal is not royalty at all. Or is he?

He stumbled into a clearing in the woods where a ruined building from a long razed village jutted out of the landscape like giant skeletal fingers reaching for the freedom of the sky. Is this where I was headed? Cal looked about. Seemed like a place that one might look for. He set up a makeshift camp, chewed down some jerky tack, and grabbed himself a nice sleep.Upon waking, Cal's mind filled with wonder and glee that he had found what he had been searching for. This is it! But was I searching for this place? Cal searched the area further on to find burnt Firbolg bones and burnt equipment. They did it again! They silenced us. We must allow this! He thought to himself. His mind turned inward upon itself. All his memories of living and growing up in a regal Firbolg village became muddled together with his recent explorations. He couldn't discern the difference and instead concluded that he must be the last of his royal line that some mysterious force seeks to end.No. I cannot allow it. I must find our sacred land. Our true Kingdom. The only way is to connect with those who claim royal positions here in this region and beyond. I must rebuild our people. Crazy Cal made his way through the tangled forests to the nearest town and began his megalomaniacal political campaign to recharge his royal line. Although he is not consciously aware of his Firbolg clan's monastic heritage, his muscle memory and reflexive training are embedded within him. A contradiction, this Firbolg monk is loud and brazen.
