Background Story

Huber grew up in a clan that were former slaves and currently closely related to the naturally tinkering Rock Gnomes. The Gremlin Clan are different than other goblins because of their relationship with the gnomes. Huber grew up jealous of his felow gremlins who have a natural affinity for artifice and creating. Many of his clan's members have been invited to work with the Collegium Imaginata in various capacities, having asserted his jealous dominance within his clan, he was brought in to supervise the Collegium's retinue of goblin lackeys. He leads with more anger and bluster than actual efficiency
